

DEVELOPING PERSONAL CONVICTIONS

Personal Convictions Chart

Developing Biblical and personal convictions takes time and prayerful research. Be cautious as you read websites that are opposed to God's Word during this assignment, realizing that you can become vulnerable to unbiblical ways of thinking. However, this is a Leadership Course and your final decision will be stronger if you are educated in your culture's persuasions, yet still choose to live by the liberating boundaries of God's Word.

Instructions: Select 15 topics that interest you and complete all five columns. Each topic is worth 7 points with a potential score of 105.

For discussion...

Church- Missing church due to work to pay bills for your family
Etiquette- Thank you notes, removing cap inside, opening doors for women, etc.
Christian responses to a gay sibling's "wedding," eating dinner with a transgender, a prostitute, etc...
Lying- Corrie Ten Boom lied to Nazis & spared Jewish lives. Should you lie to your fiancée about not being a virgin?
Music- Is there any difference between listening to Beethoven, Sinatra, Taylor Swift, or Lil' Wayne? What about jazz?
Movie scores? Is only Christian music allowed or are boundaries needed?
Savings Accounts- Jesus told us not to worry about tomorrow. Proverbs instructs to care for the poor. Is it selfish to have a savings account? Should you save for a "rainy day," if you're living by faith and not expecting a hard season?
