

How To Write Your Own Psalm Of Lament

Lamentation, a prayer for help coming out of pain, is very common in the Bible. When we hurt physically, we cry out in pain; when we hurt spiritually, we cry out in lament. Biblical lament is an honest cry to a God who is powerful, good, and just—a cry that this situation is not in alignment with God's person or purposes. It's a cry that expects an answer from God, and therefore results in hope, trust, and joy rather than despair.

A Psalm of Lament is an address to God: a complaint, a request, and usually an expression of trust. Types of complaints include: concerns with the psalmists own thoughts and actions, concerns with the actions of an enemy or prevailing attitude, and concerns with God's action or inaction. They are cries of despair, anger, protest and doubt. They are the largest class of psalms and were a normal part of Israel's praise and worship. There are communal psalms of lament and individual ones.

The Psalmists accepted the pain that emanates from daily living. They found a way to express the reality of the human and universal condition of suffering, rather than pretend life is solely filled with happiness and pleasure. They did not attempt to numb, distract from, or eliminate the pain of suffering, but accepted and verbalized their pain to God.

They follow this general structure:

1. Address: Identify the Lord as the person to whom the Psalm is addressed.
2. Complaint: Articulate the problem and ask the Lord for help.
3. Confession of Trust: Verbalize your trust in the Lord.
4. Prayer for Deliverance: Request deliverance, or God's intervention in the problem.
5. Praise: Offer praise and thanksgiving to God for God's many blessings.

Application

Take some time and reflect on the predominant emotions you have been feeling, particularly the negative ones. Reflect on a particular situation or recurring theme that you know has been causing you distress, pain or anxiety, and that you feel is beyond your control. Imagine that God is with you and that He has given you complete freedom to lay it all out, to complain fearlessly without judgment, in order to get it all off your chest.

With a piece of paper and pen, invite God's presence and follow the steps outlined below.

1. Address and introductory cry: Identify the Lord as the person to whom you are addressing your complaint. Request for His presence as you express what is on your heart.
2. Complaint or Lament: Articulate the problem you are wrestling with. Detail how it is affecting you, the pain it is causing, and ask the Lord for His help.
3. Confession of Trust: Verbalize your trust in the Lord. Share your hopes that He will come to your aid, that He will be present with you in your situation.
4. Prayer for Deliverance: Request deliverance, or God's intervention in the problem.
5. Praise: Offer praise and thanksgiving to God for God's many blessings and faithfulness.
