

F. Anstey

Baboo Jabberjee B.A.

Another delightful example of an English writer poking fun at his countrymen, or maybe all races reactions to someone from a different background. A series of adventures of a well educated foreigner in London which originally appeared weekly in the Punch , sometimes with illustrations, dealing with the difficulties of fully understanding a different culture.

The hero's perfect English reminds one of a quote from "My Fair Lady" "His English is too good he said , that clearly indicates that he is Foreign Whereas other people are instructed in their native language English people are'n" (Summary by Annise)

Read by LibriVox volunteers. Total running time: 5:31:25

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org.

Cover picture from book. Copyright expired in U.S., Canada, EU. and all countries with author's life +70 yrs laws. Cover design by Annise. This design is in the public domain.

Baboo Jabberjee B.A.

F. Anstey