PURPOSE

#2- Regeneration

#1- Original Design

LESSON 1: WHO are you & WHAT is your purpose?

there is a huge issue today with people lacking clarity of purpose.

The most common scenarios that often distract & derail women from finding their divine purpose are #1- they believe their purpose is their career or #2 they believe their purpose is their children.

Men often miss their purpose, because as 'producers' they will often get focused on the desired end result and will default to the means that get them to their end result the fastest or easiest. But an end result does not always mean you hit your purpose.

Your purpose cannot leave you. It is hard-wired into you. You were designed for it. It is 'the work' you were designed for, that at the end of it you can say, "it is finished"... and you might as well move on to the next phase of existence.

Do not confuse success with purpose. That is part of the orphan deception.

Our TRUE origin is not that of an orphan, but that we were in Him from before the foundation of time. Our father has been waiting for us to receive the revelation of who we fully are. He is waiting for us to understand our original design.

We begin to understand what was lost by understanding what is being restored to you.

And inheritance is not a gift, it is a responsibility. A gift is for my consumption. An inheritance is not to be consumed but stewarded and multiplied.

A King or Queen realizes it is their purpose to protect and care for those placed in their territory and to change the culture around them to look like the Kingdom of Heaven.

LESSON 2: Convergence

The wrong identity boxes us into limiting beliefs about ourselves and our purpose.

Living in a box means that the majority of what you are destined for goes undiscovered, untapped, and unfulfilled.

We could be super successful by everyone else's standards and still completely miss the mark for our assignment.

A L.I.E. is a Limiting Idea Entertained.

We have to begin to identify these limiting beliefs in order to break out into the gap and head toward convergence.

Convergence is the intentional culmination of personal growth, purpose, and maturing according to design.

For convergence to take place you have to develop a strong understanding of who you are and why you do what you do

Studies also show that those few that reach convergence in their life did so with intention and within community.

5 phases to reaching convergence:

- 1-Sovereign Beginnings
- 2- Spiritual Formation
- 3- Gift Development
- 4- Life Maturing
- 5- Convergence

LESSON 2: Convergence

5 phases to reaching convergence:

1-Sovereign Beginnings - “Sovereign Beginnings” refers to the facts surrounding your birth

2- Spiritual Formation - This refers to the process and practices by which a person progresses in their spiritual life and development.

3- Gift Development - Discovering what your gifts are can happen early in your life, or it can be more of an unfolding process over the years.

4- Life Maturing - During this phase, you are steadily increasing in your responsibilities in life, both inside and outside your home. This also includes spiritual maturing.

5- Convergence - This is the phase where your passion aligns with your competency.

Lesson 3: The 4 Phases

1-Dream Stage

In this first stage, you begin to see or hear what you are being called to do. In this stage, your skill typically starts off low, with what we call unconscious incompetence. Ignorance on fire is what you may hear this stage referred to.

2- Distress Stage

You begin to wrestle with the limitations of your knowledge, skill, resources and eventually consciously realize, and come to terms with your incompetence.

3- Development Stage

You start to develop the knowledge, the heart, the capacity, the skill, the acumen to demonstrate what you were designed and called to do.

4- Demonstrate Stage

Unconscious competence is when you are just doing it without thinking about it.

LESSON 4 - Living In the convergence zone

The Collins model begins with: What are you best at? What are you developing mastery in? True mastery happens by gradually increasing your skill, knowledge and ability in something over time. Then decide what are you most passionate about? And then what drives your economic engine?

Covey discovered something that is like a super power in working towards discovering purpose. Covey calls it conscience, or we could call it intuition, even the prophetic factor.

When we combine these 4 factors, in the center of it is what I call your unique resonance.

Discovering your convergence zone:

The convergence zone is the place where you experience now, parts of the future you—You access a momentary alignment with your ultimate assignment and seem to get a glimpse of who you are in your tomorrow.

This is SO IMPORTANT. You need to multiply your AWARENESS and sensitivity to those moments!

When you are good at recognizing seasons and assignments you will begin having multiple mini-convergences, confirming the season and assignment came together appropriately and as planned.

Remember as we begin to map out this journey. Your whole life isn't about just one moment ... it is about EVERY moment, or a series of moments.

There is a divine Convergence Code that you already have inside you and putting it to its intended use is what we are pursuing!

Your gifts are going to be the 'HOW' God will use you.

Your heart is going to be giving you some idea of 'WHERE' you're going to show up and 'WHAT' you're going to do.
