

Identity Liberation Prayer

“Father, thank you for who I am and for how you made me. Thank you for that extraordinary design and living miracle that I am”

“Thank you that you love who I am, you believe in who you made me to be, and that you sent Jesus to pay for my freedom and liberty to be exactly who you intended me to be”

“I apologize to myself and say that I am sorry for not allowing me to be myself, for not allowing my true identity to be expressed, for comparing myself to others, for any way I have rejected myself, not valued myself, disliked myself, or hated myself”

“I apologize to myself for every way that I have been out of agreement with who God says that I am and out of alignment with who God made me to be”

“I apologize to you God, for not recognizing my true value and worth, I apologize for forming any kind of wall, barrier, or for locking the door between my heart and my soul”

“I apologize to you God for every way I have disagreed with you about who I am and my design, and for every way I have been misaligned with my true identity and with who you made me to be”

Right now, I declare that I am willing to give myself permission to be my true authentic self, and I give myself permission to shine the light within me, and I am willing to love and accept myself in the same way you love and accept me, God.”

Right now I declare that I am willing to agree with God about who I am and who He designed me to be, and I am willing to align my whole self with the truth of who I am and who God designed me to be.

In the Name and authority of Jesus Christ on Nazareth, the Messiah, who paid for and purchased my freedom and liberty to be who God intended me to be and to function according to my true identity!
