

Invitation from Jeus to partner with you in your leadership.

How Jesus might teach you this directly:

“Beloved, you are My bride, the object of My affection. I love you and I adore you. I want you to be a part of My life and for Me to a part of yours. I want to be in your leadership with you. I have already paid a price to you to have a glorious inheritance - this includes your leadership. How you lead brings life to those around you. My Kingdom is being built by Kingdom leaders like you. Your leadership is meant to be like no other because You and I are one.

There are no limits to your leadership in Me. There is no need to carry the weight of the outcomes. Rather, we want you to delight in the our partnership together. My partnership is easy. It is pleasant to you and it is so effective it will amaze you. I desire that you to be a leader that has an inner lightness of being because your confidence is in Me.

As you learn to lean on our partnership, you will live astonished by My goodness. You will learn you already have all the favor you need from Heaven because you are in Me. Let me teach you how to let that favor go before you and make a way for your business.

Everyday, I ask you to make this exchange: give me the weight of the outcomes, and in return you find rest for your soul. I love our learning together, I will teach you my ways in your business specifically. You will discover my passion for leading together with you. I have a dream for our partnership and every venture we embark on together.

I can accelerate your learning in this partnerships. I am a quickening Spirit. What used to take a year will now take a month; what used to take a month will take a days; and what used to take days will take hours.

This is what will make you an astonishing leader. It is not what you know, but who you are in partnership with, that will be your distinguishing factor. This is our new partnership. You are free to stop doing things for me and start doing them with Me.

The glory the Father gave me, I have given it to you. You are meant to live an exalted life in Me. Your leadership is designed to be light, pleasant, and highly effective.

Beloved, take me up on my offer. You are not limited to come to me only when you are stressed. I am inviting you to live a stress-free life and amaze those around you. Make this your permanent place from which you lead. Abide in Me and you will bear the fruit the Father prepared beforehand for you to walk in.”
