

CONCLUSION

Here I am, in my fifth year of business, having been open to take on board as much wisdom and insight as has been given to me. I have invested physically, mentally and spiritually with both time and money in those who have gone before me to pull together the best of the best and bring you my best.

I am living my best life every day. This book was a way for me to share some of the keys to a life of complete peace, joy, love, patience, rest, kindness, gentleness, goodness and faithfulness and even some self control.

I have been blessed with a highly successful coaching business, where I get to see those I have the honour of working with through an inspiring perspective. I get to see their potential and possibilities and their awesomeness. They walk away with hope and a future, not their problems, circumstances or situations.

As you can see from this book, my life has not been a box of fluffies, with everything going the way I expected or being easy. Easy is a myth. I always wanted my life to be easy, peaceful and without contention or conflict.

The reality is my life is simple and straightforward, without stress and anxiety, without worry, guilt or shame. I am completely free to be the woman I was created to be. I pray some of this has been passed on to you as you have read through these pages and engaged with the call to adventure at the end of each chapter.

I have had many powerful men and women speak over me. Steve Carnie has spoken over me at our end-of-year leaders get-together for the last three years, giving me confirmation and clear direction for the following year. In the first year, I was encouraged to build a miracle room and in it God would perform miracles. Unathi designed it, and Kev and I redecorated it. I have witnessed miracle after miracle in this space with people's dream BIG lists coming to pass. Here are a few highlights:

One lady wanted her own home, respect from her team and connection with her family. She had a house bought for her, had a trip to Rarotonga with all her family paid for in full, and the CEO has recognised her for her work.

Another client said he felt like he had had open-heart surgery. All the worries and years of lies lifted off him in one session.

One young boy, having had voices in his head since taking a party drug once, said it was the first time his head had been clear in nine months. He is now off all prescribed medication and completely free of the unhelpful voices.

Another amazing young man came to me because he couldn't get on top of his role at work, only to find he was drinking heavily and engaging with different ladies on the weekends, leaving him empty and lonely. Everything he wrote on his vision, his hope for the future, has come to pass. He stopped drinking, he found an amazing lady who he has now married, he got his residency and runs his own contracting business.

Numerous clients have been set free from anxiety, worry, shame, guilt, stress, fear, failure and not being good enough. Each one of them is living their vision, their own hope for the future.

THE GREAT EXCHANGE

This miracle room is where the impossible has become possible. Inspiring Perspectives was born and this book was written there. Hundreds of people have been set free from limiting beliefs and the lies of the past so that they can live their lives knowing their true “Why”, identity and purpose. Every day I think I am living my best life, that it couldn’t get better than this... and then it does! I love the journey of discovery and adventure we call L.I.F.E, and I love passing the goodness, grace, blessing and favour onto others.

I am so grateful to God for His Word, where He says that He will bless generation after generation and will answer your prayers. I pray for my children, and I see the grace and favour upon their lives.

Martha is now in her second year at university, working on a horse livery yard and realising a dream she has had in her heart since primary school as well as completing her third Future Blacksticks camp.

Arthur is now living his dream he had way back in kindergarten. He had played with tractors and diggers and always wanted to be a farmer. He is in the stunning South Island with his beautiful girlfriend of five years and seven dogs, a new Ute with hand crafted, personalised working dog box for them to travel in, living his best life.

Jasper is having a blast too, carving his path. He is living in Australia with his wife and has two beautiful boys, studying English and History with the intention to become a teacher, a pathway he is genuinely gifted for.

Kev loves the work he does with young people who struggle in life and at school. He works for a company called Innov8 which has homes for children who need full-time care and support. He does all the fun outdoors stuff with them and others in the community who find conforming to the patterns of this world tough. He, too, speaks into their possibilities, encouraging and empowering them to become the wonderful people they have been uniquely designed to be. Love, peace, kindness, gentleness, patience, joy, and self-control all being caught rather than taught, helping them to turn their upside down worlds the right way up.

If this book has spoken into your heart or has made you change the way you see the world, please buy a friend a copy and pass the love on. If you'd like to go deeper or want more information on any of the topics covered in this book, please get in touch.

I believe it is time for us all to be who we are born to be. To stop being told what to do and think by the news and those with small, fixed minds around us, all of which bring us down. I believe it is time to listen to the good news. I believe there is no better wisdom than in the book of Proverbs on how to live a fulfilling life. And I love the book of John which shows me how. All part of the good news in the Bible. I believe it is time to tune into and listen to the uplifting voice within, that is present in our hearts, mind and body so that we can be filled with joy, peace and love in all circumstances. This shift for me has taken me to places of awesomeness I never thought I would go.

It's time to be experts in our own lives. And to be the positive influence in the space we live with those we love rather than being the experts in everyone else's lives and average in our own. I encourage you to carve your own path and have fun creating the life you are uniquely designed to be brilliant at.

It's time to dig into all the treasures that are buried inside you. To turn them over and let them shine. I believe each one of us is uniquely designed to be brilliant, to do something no one else can do. What is it you are called to do? What piece of this puzzle in life are you? Which wonderful people are you meant to connect with and fit together with?

This incredible journey of discovery has taken me on an adventure.

1 To find my faith

2 To focus on my family

3 To be financially free
